Planning Process

A high-quality, well-developed plan, created with your help, is the key to implementing drainage and flood control alternatives in your watershed.

The process starts with citizens and partner agencies identifying a problem and ends with implementing nonstructural flood control alternatives and/or constructing drainage facilities.

* Nonstructural recommendations include Drainage Guidelines, Flood Response Plans, Floodplain Delineations Studies, Floodprone Properties Acquisition Program, or other elements.